RE: Rex C. Anderson, Attorney at Law

To whom it may concern:

I recently hired Rex Anderson to assist the bank in the foreclosure process of a commercial real estate loan. In the first meeting it was clear that Rex knew the Arizona foreclosure / trustee sale proceedings as he outlined the entire process in detail with estimated time frames. He then spent time in reviewing our loan documents to insure that the collateral position we thought we had was in fact correct. Rex even did extensive research on the property and discovered liens that we were unaware existed. Finally, he kept us informed on every step of the process and collection of the debt. His tenacious approach to follow-up and constant communication was a welcome joy compared to other law firms we have used in the past for such work. I would highly recommend Rex for any real estate foreclosure / trustee sale work and with out question will hire him for future such work for the Bank.
